Warehouse move to Puurs – Start up challenges

As all of you are aware, we have just completed a restructuring of our warehouse operations and material flow for Doosan Portable Power spare parts and aftermarket business. Specifically, we combined our Portable Power spare parts operations into one consolidated Doosan Infracore International EMEA warehouse in Puurs, Belgium.

We recognize there have been some challenges in the startup (operational and system stability issues) and that these have affected the shipment lead times and the availability of products during the transition.

As of today, the situation in terms of shipment performance out of our new warehouse in Puurs is under control and we are confident that you will see a clear improvement on your next orders.

Regarding availability, we are still working on closing some of the identified issues and we expect return to normal operation by the end of July 2009.

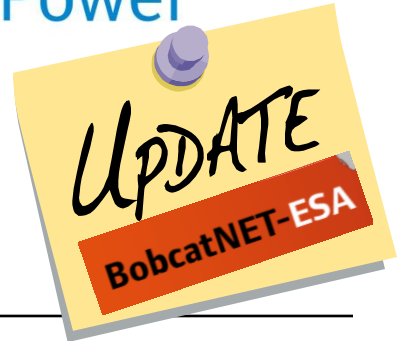

We apologize for the inconvenience caused to you and your customers.

Thanks for your continued support of our partnership.
